

EXPLORE YOUR OPPORTUNITIES

Art historians at Mizzou discover how to think analytically and historically about the making and meaning of objects and how they shape communities and identities. These acquired skills prepare students for careers in:

- business
- education
- journalism
- law
- music
- non-profit administration
- journalism

HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE

Our curriculum combines traditional classroom courses with experiential, object-centered learning. Many of our students hold internships or graduate research assistantships at museums locally and and nationally including:

- George Caleb Bingham Gallery
- St. Louis Art Museum
- Nelson Atkins Museum of Art
- Columbia Art League
- Smithsonian American Art Museum
- Metropolitan Museum of art

PROMINENT POSITIONS

Our graduates go on to successful careers in in major museums, art galleries, government agencies, research institutions, colleges and universities in jobs such as:

- Museum Curator
- Museum Educator
- Collections Specialist
- Conservator
- Librarian
- Professor
- Advisor
- Instructional Designer
- Admissions Coordinator

Scan for more info.